Our three-night walking breaks explore a variety of landscapes suitable for experienced and novice walkers, with a choice each day of a short, 4-6 mile walk or a longer ramble of up to 12 miles.

Parcevall Hall is surrounded by beautiful walking country on a human scale. Wide open moorland, valleys, riverside paths, hills and pretty hamlets can be explored with ease.

Led by experienced walk leaders, guests set out after breakfast with a packed lunch and return to the warmth of Parcevall for Afternoon Tea followed by a hearty evening meal.

The walks are not obligatory! If you would prefer to stay and enjoy the peace of the Hall, we will serve you lunch in the dining room. You can stroll in the lovely gardens, read a book from our library, or just rest and relax. Alternatively, you might like to visit possibly the best 'real' pub in England, the Craven Arms in Appletreewick!

Our Chaplain, Graham Bettridge is on hand to provide spiritual leadership for those who wish to participate.

Bookings and enquiries can be made through Parcevall Hall
